HIGH FLYING
FAST TRACK
STUDENT

Fabian Yeo Eng Liang (centre) scored a CPS average of 86.2 in the WAUF Fast Track program. This equated to a TER of 99.5 and gave him a comfortable entrance to the UWA Sports Science degree.

Ever popular Fabian wore his Singaporean national dress to the Tuart international students graduation dinner last year.

The Fast Track program allows able overseas students to complete the Foundation program in a little over one semester.

TUART STAR 2005

Ben Willesee won 3 subject awards for being top student in 2005 in Discrete Maths, Political and Legal Studies and History.

He also achieved the highest TER of 99.65 and was successful in getting into Law at UWA.

Congratulations Ben!

2006 INSTITUTIONS CHOSEN
MICHAEL KEENAN MP VISITS

Newly elected Federal Member for Stirling, Michael Keenan MP, visited the College earlier in the year and was impressed with the facilities and courses being offered to students.

Michael was particularly interested in the College’s intention to purchase 22 interactive white-boards. He supported the management’s application for federal funding to finance the purchase which he agreed would be a worthy asset in classroom methodology.

Computer HOD, Steve Poli has taken the lead in encouraging and teaching staff about the use of the interactive SMART-Board white-boards and has provided many useful recommendations to the College Management Committee.

Steve teaches evening short courses on the use of the boards and these courses have proven to be popular with many teachers from other schools in the area.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE ON COLLEGE BOARD

Brooke Reed is a mature-age student who spent last year in the Flying Start program and is now studying three TEE subjects. With a busy family life, Brooke says it takes some careful juggling to keep up with her studies as well as other commitments.

Speaking at this year’s Welcome Day event, Brooke encouraged students to put a priority on attending classes regularly and to remind themselves of the goals they had set at the time of enrolment. Brooke accepted an invitation to be this year’s student representative on the College Advisory Board.

COUNSELLOR SAILS AWAY

College Counsellor Les Phillips spent 5 weeks last year sailing from Greece to Thailand on board this large clipper class sailing ship.

As one of the largest passenger sailing ships in the world, the Star Flyer accommodates 170 passengers and 40 crew.

The voyage through the Suez Canal and Red Sea included ports in Greece, Egypt, India and Sri Lanka, but Les said the best part was the days at sea experiencing true sailing conditions.

Whilst on leave, the Counsellor’s position was ably filled by Carla Bormolini who, this year, is job sharing with Les.

Les relaxed (left) while Carla (right) looked after things back at the office.
More than two year’s planning and work has gone into improving the College’s Student Services Centre. New offices for three Deputy Principals, an expanded International Office and a total refit has resulted in offices that are modern and professional appearance.

Befitting the Department of Educations’s efforts to lift the profile of government schools, this major expense by the College presents a public image worthy of a Senior College.

The clerical and some other staff have added to the professional touch with the adoption of a College uniform.
SELF PORTRAIT ON IRON

This unique art piece by student Katie Moore was last year added to the College art collection. It is a self-portrait in oils on rusted iron roof tiles and expresses her feelings after a personal heartbreak.

Katie is now enrolled in a Visual Arts degree at Edith Cowan University.

LIFE IS SO GOOD FOR ASHLEE

Jenny Trevaskis teaches English in the Flying Start program which has subjects at three levels equivalent to years 9, 10 and 11.

Students such as Ashlee Thomas (pictured) can qualify for the Certificate in General Education for Adults (CGEA) in one semester. This means that it is possible to complete the equivalent of years 10 and 11 in one year of study.

Enrolments for Semester 2 commence in early July.
