HOW TO COMPLETE THE NATIONAL POLICE CHECKING SERVICE (NPCS) APPLICATION/CONSENT FORM
Please read all information below. The National Police History Check application can be downloaded for you to complete. All sections of the application must be completed. If enrolling at Tuart College the application can be completed during your enrolment appointment.

WHO SHOULD COMPLETE THIS FORM
- Post-compulsory students seeking to enrol at a Public school.

GENERAL INFORMATION
The Department of Education conducts police history checks, also known as criminal screening, as part of the process of assessing suitability of individuals seeking to enrol as a post-compulsory student at a public school or college.

A police history check cannot be done without your consent. To enable the Department to conduct this check, please complete the National Police Checking Service Informed Consent Form.

The National Police Checking Service Informed Consent Form involves the provision by you of certain identifying information that will assist the Department to conduct the police record check through the CrimTrac Agency. You will also be asked to provide information as to the existence of any criminal convictions or findings of guilt before a Court, subject to certain exceptions that are discussed below.

If it is subsequently discovered that you have provided false or misleading information on your application, your enrolment may be terminated.

SPENT CONVICTIONS AND RESTRICTIONS ON THE RELEASE OF POLICE HISTORY INFORMATION
The Commonwealth, States and Territories are each subject to different legislative requirements in relation to the release of police history information.

Please note: in accordance with the Spent Convictions Act 1988 (WA), when consenting to the Department’s National Police History Check, you must also disclose all Western Australian convictions that you have had ‘spent,’ and the Department is entitled to receive this information.

Also, under Section 85ZZH (e) and (f) of the Commonwealth Crimes Act 1914, the Department is entitled to have access to the details of ‘designated’ Commonwealth offences that have been spent. These ‘designated offences’ relate to any sexual offence, or any other offence, where the victim was under the age of 18 years at the time. If you have a ‘designated’ spent Commonwealth conviction, you must disclose it to the Department.
Spent Conviction legislation is complex. If you are unsure as to whether you are required to disclose a conviction, please contact the Department’s Screening Unit at screening@education.wa.edu.au or telephone 9264 4391 or alternatively, you may wish to seek your own independent legal advice. If you need advice about a spent conviction in another state, please contact that State’s Police Service directly.

PRIVACY

Police history information is very private and sensitive personal information. The Department stores this information securely and discloses it only to those persons authorised to assess your suitability. The information you provide in this form and any information received by the Department in the assessment process will not be used without your consent for any other purpose and will ordinarily only be disclosed to the persons and agencies identified in the form for that purpose, unless statutory obligations require otherwise, e.g. subpoena, Police warrant etc. For information see Privacy Act 1988 (Cwth).

RESULTS OF A NATIONAL POLICE HISTORY CHECK

If you are found to have no convictions or findings of guilt before a Court, you will be notified by letter to indicate your screening has been completed. You will also be allocated a Screening Clearance Number (SCN).

If you are found to have a conviction, a spent conviction, finding of guilt before a Court, pending Court case or any other outstanding matter, this will be referred to the Department’s Screening Committee for consideration. The existence of a conviction or finding of guilt before a Court does not automatically preclude you from engagement in the education and training sectors. The Screening Committee considers all information in relation to your situation before coming to a conclusion as to your suitability, and you may be asked to provide a statement and/or references. Police history information is destroyed once the Department has made an assessment, and in the case of refusal, once all review processes, if any, have been exhausted.

POST-COMPULSORY STUDENTS ENROLLING AT A PUBLIC SCHOOL

Individuals seeking to enrol at a Public school as a post-compulsory student are required to consent to a National Police History Check. The relevant school or college will assist you with your application and will liaise with the Screening Unit concerning the outcome of the criminal screening for these applicants. The fee for post-compulsory students is $46. This is non-refundable.

100 POINT IDENTIFICATION CHECK

In order to verify your identity, you are required to provide COPIES of at least 100 points of identification using the points allocated in the boxes below. One item from the Primary Identification box is compulsory. The remaining 30 points must be made up from the Secondary Identification boxes. If applying to enrol at a Department of Education School or College, your copies will be Certified by a School/College’s enrolling officer.

HELP

If help is required, ask for help from the staff member assisting you to enrol. If you require further assistance, please contact the Department of Education’s Screening Unit at screening@education.wa.edu.au or telephone 9264 4391.

Your completed application, together with CERTIFIED COPIES of your 100 point ID documents, and any other information you have been asked to attach, should be provided to the school you are seeking to enrol at.

Schools should send completed applications, with payment of $46 per student, to:

SECTION 6: GENERAL INFORMATION

General information
Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission (ACIC) is collecting your personal information in this form in order to conduct a National Police History Check (NPHC) on you. It does this through a contractual arrangement with the Accredited Organisation named at Section 5. ACIC has contractual arrangements with its Accredited Organisations to collect personal information on its behalf to support processes assessing the suitability of people applying for employment, Australian citizenship, appointment to positions of trust, volunteer service or for various licensing or registration schemes. Accredited Organisations and their customers (such as employers) use the personal information collected on this form and the resulting NPHC as part of their assessment process to determine your application. Some Accredited Organisations have a legislative basis for the collection, use and disclosure of your personal information.

ACIC recommends that you seek further information about any relevant/applicable legislative framework from the Accredited Organisation.

ACIC recommends that you seek further information from the Accredited Organisation at Section 5 in circumstances where your information is likely to be disclosed to overseas recipients.

Unless statutory obligations require otherwise, the information provided on this form will not be used without your prior consent for any purpose other than in relation to the assessment of your suitability; or to maintain the records of ACIC and police agencies; or for law enforcement purposes. You will be required to complete another consent form for any future NPHCs.

National Police History Check (NPHC)
Information on this form will be used by ACIC and police agencies for checking action; it will also be used to update records held about you by ACIC and police agencies.

ACIC and police agencies will access their records to obtain and disclose Police History Information (PHI) that relates to you to:

a) the Accredited Organisation named in Section 5 above; and
b) where applicable, the Employer/Organisation you are seeking employment with.

PHI may include outstanding charges, warrant information and criminal convictions/findings/pleas of guilt recorded against you. PHI is disclosed according to applicable laws of the relevant jurisdiction and, in accordance with the relevant jurisdiction’s information release policies. Applicable laws include but are not limited to spent conviction legislation.

Limitations on accuracy and use of PHI
While every care has been taken by ACIC and police agencies to conduct a search of PHI that relates to the Applicant, the accuracy and quality of an NPHC issued by ACIC depends on accurate identification of the Applicant (including aliases), the comprehensiveness of police records and is based on the information provided on this form. If the Applicant does not complete the information requirements in this form the success and validity of the NPHC will be compromised. It is in your interest to provide full and complete details in this form.

If for any reason you do not agree with the results of your NPHC, please notify the Accredited Organisation that submitted the request for a NPHC on you so that the NPCS dispute process can be initiated.

For more information regarding the NPHC process or the handling of Personal Information and Police History Information, you can contact the ACIC’s National Police Checking Service on:

Provision of incomplete, false or misleading information
An Accredited Organisation and an Applicant must take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information collected or disclosed is accurate, complete and up to date.
